

The Painter in the Van

Paintings and Drawings Bryan Whitfield Photographs and Book Paul Carter

The root of this exhibition is a chance meeting between Paul and Bryan in 1969 on a beach in Torremolinos, southern Spain. Bryan was travelling with his family in a van. Paul took photographs of them and of the local people who were living through a moment of change as Torremolinos was being transformed from fishing village to Costa del Sol resort.

In 2016 Paul and the Whitfield family published a book documenting their time on the beach. "The Painter in the Van" develops that collaboration with Bryan's recent paintings, images from the book and more of Paul's photographs from that time in Spain.
